

Finding Free GOLD: Government OnLine Documents Workshop

Do you help people who want to start a small business?

Would you like to teach a unit on the federal government in your 4th grade class?

Are your undergraduates writing about economic growth in Kentucky counties?

Do your graduates need information on employment opportunities overseas?

Do you field questions on how many people are in a particular Kentucky county?

Do you know the easiest way to find information on air pollution in your city?

If you have tried to answer any of these questions or you are interested in learning about state, federal and international government information online, we have a workshop for you! The Kentucky Virtual Library (KYVL) Government Information Access Workgroup is offering a free, one-day workshop for librarians and educators on Monday, November 1, 2004 in Frankfort.

Over fifteen different presentations will give you an overview of the state, federal and international resources available on the Web. Packets, containing the presentations and any handouts provided by the presenters, will be distributed to the attendees.

Where: Council on Postsecondary Education, Room A
1024 Capital Center Drive, Suite 320
Frankfort, KY 40601

Schedule: 8:30am --- Registration
9:00am to Noon --- Morning sessions
Noon to 1:30pm --- Lunch [on your own!]
1:30 to 4pm --- Afternoon sessions

Please register by October 1st as the workshop is limited to the first 85 registrants.
